INDIAN SWAMP LANDS

Congress is expected to settle the Klamath Indian reservation swamp land dispute, which has been before the Courts for years. Representative Hawley has introduced a resolution to adjust title to these lands. About 1884 the government granted to the state of Oregon all overflowed and swamp lands within its boundaries. Part of these lands were subsequently included in the Klamath Indian reservation and are now claimed by the Indians. Hawley's resolution protects the interests of the state and will require either that title to the swamps and overflowed lands shall be vested in the state or that the state shall have the right of selecting other lands in lieu thereof.

A PROHIBITION PLANK

Strange as it may seem it is just possible that the Democrats may insert a prohibition plank in their national platform this year. At least it is predicted that there will be a strong contest between the Democrats of the North and South. Democrats of the South are nearly all for prohibition now because their states have voted that way, and they are compelled to carry out the wishes of their party. Prohibition and Democratic politics seem a strange mix up to those who remember political conditions of former days. For years the Democratic party was charged with being the "liquor party" of the country. This union, however, would be no more surprising than that of Republicanism and Statecraft No. 1 in Oregon. Anything to get the voters.

It is now estimated that every individual will owe Uncle Sam an extra half dollar on June 30 next. That is to say, the deficit in the revenue on that date is estimated at $40,000,000. With the population counted at 80,000,000, that means 50 cents each. Now let each one of us be prompt in paying.

The southern states go right along selecting double sets of delegates for the Chicago convention, and Texas even proposes to send three sets. Wonder who is going to pay the traveling expenses and the hotel bills of the fellows who don't get seats in the convention?

Haven't heard of a new job for Roosevelt, after his term expires, for three or four days. Last one was the presidency of a great national university. It's a safe bet, though, that he will never settle down to teaching school.

Chicago judge fined a man one dollar for kissing a woman. Bet a fig the woman who made the complaint was sorry for it when she saw the valuation the judge placed on her kisses.

How nice and accommodating on the part of Turkey to kick up this muss with Italy just at the right time to give the duke of Abruzzi a chance to show off before his American sweetheart in his gorgeous naval uniform.

Be good, it is the only safe investment that pays ten per cent on the dollar.
